About the Teacher

Jeanette Terzi is a fine artist born and raised in Brooklyn, NY. She studied at the Fashion Institute of Technology, where she received her Associate's degree in Fine Arts in 2021. Jeanette then continued her education and transferred to Brooklyn College, where she will be receiving her Bachelor's degree in the spring.

Jeanette has taught at community schools such as Shulamith High School and Magen David Yeshivah High School instructing beginner, advanced, and AP art to students in grades 10-12.

She works with various mediums, with a particular fondness for oil paint. During the summers, Jeanette teaches over 100 community students in New Jersey, culminating in an annual art show to display their work. She also dedicates her free time to charitable organizations, conducting charity paint classes and curating charity art shows.
